Royal Rosarian Rose Garden Contest

A Royal Rosarian Foundation and Portland Rose Festival Community event

In 1938, the Royal Rosarian Rose Garden Contest was established as the first sponsored citywide event to honor the rose, the “Queen of Flowers.” The contest was so popular that it immediately became an annual event. The Royal Rosarians are committed to continually improving the contest to showcase the best amateur rose gardens and commercial plantings in Portland, the City of Roses. The contest promotes greater appreciation for growing roses, honoring those citizens who help beautify Portland through their rose growing efforts, and upholds the signature Royal Rosarian slogan, “For You A Rose In Portland Grows!” The Royal Rosarians encourage all rose growers in the Portland Metropolitan Area to enter this contest.

The 2024 Application Packet is available on the Royal Rosarian and Royal Rosarian Foundation websites. Select Rose Garden Contest at the Events tabs.

- www.royalrosarianfoundation.org

You may also request an application packet by contacting Duchess Marilyn Schultz at rosegardencontest@royalrosarianfoundation.org.

Contributions for the support of the Rose Garden Contest may be made to the Royal Rosarian Foundation at PO Box 8956, Portland, OR 97207-8956. Please write RGC on the memo line of your check. Your contribution is voluntary and will not influence judging in any way.

The Rose Garden Contest Awards Ceremony will be held on Tuesday, June 18, 2024, at 6:30 pm in the Royal Rosarian Garden of the International Rose Test Garden at Washington Park. Winning contestants will be notified in advance, but all contestants and their guests are encouraged to attend this public acknowledgement of their rose growing achievements.

Definitions for the Rose Garden Contest

Rosarian: A person who grows roses or studies the rose in any or all of its forms.

Royal Rosarian: Any member of the organization called The Royal Rosarians, serving as the official greeters and ambassadors of goodwill for the City of Portland.

Rose Garden: An area for displaying roses in a defined setting that does not include other plant material of any kind. A formal rose garden often includes a focal point of a definable manufactured object such as a gazing ball, trellis, or fountain, which may or may not be adorned with roses. Any combination of rose varieties may be used and the uniqueness of that use can be an enhancement to the garden and the judging condition of the rose garden.

Rose Planting: Any piece of ground used for rose cultivation that would not otherwise constitute a rose garden. It may include any random display of roses and may include other plants. English and cottage-style gardens and curb parking areas are perfect settings for rose plantings.

Professionally Maintained: Gardens receiving paid, professional services over the course of the season. For example: pruning, spraying and clean-up of spent blooms and leaves.

Rose Garden Contest Judges: Royal Rosarians and/or spouses and Rose Society experts and/or spouses perform as judges in a fair and objective manner. An average of all judges' scores, minimum of two, determines the garden's final score.

Eligibility: The contest is open to all rose growers within 20 miles of the Pioneer Courthouse Square, Portland, Oregon, as verified by electronic mapping system. No garden club membership or fee is required to enter the contest.

Commercial: Any commercial or public property such as business and professional buildings, churches, hospitals, nursing and retirement centers, schools, public service agencies.

Portland City Limits: Boundary of approximately 92,600 acres as verified by <http://maps-portland.com/portland-zoning-map>.

JUDGING CRITERIA

Design and Layout of Roses (10 points): The rose garden or rose planting layout must meet the definitions discussed on page 3 of this application package. All types of rose displays should have adequate sunshine (no less than 6 hours a day) and be designed for ease of maintenance to promote optimum growth and resistance to disease. Spacing should be appropriate to rose type and the overall design of the garden or planting.

Optimum spacing distance between plants:

- Shrubs and Grandifloras: 36"
- Hybrid Teas: 30"
- Floribundas: 24"
- Miniature Roses: 12"

Soil Condition (10 points) : Adequate mulching is desirable, but it should not be heaped around and above the canes. Soil needs to be cultivated to eliminate weeds and keep the soil loose.

Pruning (20 points): The plants should be trimmed for proper form and structure. Crossing and dead canes need to be removed and centers opened. The amount of live wood removed during pruning is considered to be an individual preference and does not affect the score:

Pruning scoring:

- Plant form and structure: 10 points
- Cane health and vigor: 10 points

Maintenance (40 points): Continued grooming along with a diligent fertilizing and spraying schedule is very important in order to maintain good health, strong growth, and overall beauty of the roses. Spent blooms should be removed (deadheaded) and fallen petals and leaves picked up. Severe disease infection or insect damage is an indication of poor maintenance. Individuals who have adopted alternative forms of pest management and can effectively keep their gardens clear of pests using methods other than spraying will be judged the same as those using the traditional spray regimens. More importantly, the cleanliness of the garden will influence the score.

Maintenance scoring:

- Deadheading: 10 points
- Weed control: 10 points
- Disease control: 10 points
- Insect control: 10 points

Vigor (10 points): The size of the blooms, canes and foliage, together with healthy growth on upper canes and the indication of new basal breaks will show if a balanced feeding program is being followed. Vigor also indicates the plant's ability to fend off pests and renew itself during the growing season.

Bloom Quality (10 points): Consideration will be given to the climatic conditions affecting the number and quality of blooms.

PROTOCOLS AND RULES

All rose gardens must be located within 20 miles of Pioneer Courthouse Square, Portland, Oregon, as verified with an electronic mapping system.

This contest is open to amateur and hobbyist gardeners. However (Division 7) "Professionally Maintained" applies to gardens receiving routine professional help - see Definitions, page 3.

Divisions: Winning addresses may not compete in their winning division(s) for the next two calendar years following their winning year. Exception: First Time Entrants (Division 9 and Division 11D) can only enter once. It is important that everyone understand the restrictions for each Division so entries can be submitted correctly. Example: Winners from 2021 are eligible to enter the 2024 contest.

Records of previous winners will be referenced; however, a participant's sense of fair play is relied on to not enter divisions or sections for the next two calendar years following his/her winning year. The contest hopes to give every qualifying gardener the experience of entering and competing fairly in the Rose Garden Contest. Judges reserve the right to properly recategorize the entries.

Each physical address is eligible for up to two division section entries.

Please do not put unnecessary pressure on yourself. All entrants in each division and section will be judged fairly and objectively. Good luck!
